IMMIGRATION REFORM
JAIME GARCIA- LOS ANGELES, CALIFORNIA
PKG 2:00

Los Angeles County Federation of Labor Executive Secretary-Treasurer, Maria Elena Durazo partners with key immigrant rights and civil rights stakeholders in Los Angeles to hold immigration Town Hall with Congressman Luis Gutierrez (D-IL) to ensure that immigration debate is part of the national agenda in the Obama administration for 2010.

TOYOTA RECALL
LOURDES DEL RIO- MIAMI, FLORIDA
PKG 2:00

Toyota Motor Corp. said Monday its dealers should get parts to fix a sticky gas pedal problem by the end of this week as the automaker apologized to customers and tried to bring an end to a recall that has affected 4.2 million vehicles worldwide. The company said in a statement that it has begun shipping parts and is training dealers on the repairs. Some dealers will stay open around the clock to fix the 2.3 million cars and trucks affected by the recall in the U.S.

Police cars and large white vans rumbled down the unpaved road toward the ramshackle houses, where illegal immigrants are among hundreds living in a slapdash neighborhood, or colonia, called San Carlos. U.S. Census Bureau Director Robert Groves emerged from the caravan Monday with a message: You can trust us. His entrance didn't convince everyone.

TOYOTA MORE PROBLEMS
LOURDES DEL RIO. MIAMI, FLORIDA
PKG 1:50

Toyota continues to feel the impact of their recall and sales halt of 8 brands with pedal problems---the company suffered a 16-percent sales drop in January, the first time in more than a decade that monthly sales in the U.S. dropped below 100-thousand vehicles. Now the Chairman of the House Commerce Committee says that in private Toyota executives told his staff they still don't know what caused all of the runaway cars. There's also another problem for Toyota---the automaker has been hit with more than 100 complaints in the U.S. and Japan about brake problems with the popular Prius gas-electric hybrid.

BORDER FENCE

VO :22

An ambitious, $6.7 billion government project to secure nearly the entire Mexican border with a "virtual fence" of cameras, ground sensors and radar is in jeopardy after a string of technical glitches and delays. Having spent $672 million so far with little to show for it, Washington has ordered a reassessment of the whole idea. The outlook became gloomier this week when President Barack Obama proposed cutting $189 million from the venture. Ultimately, the project could be scaled back dramatically, with the government installing virtual fences along a few segments of the nation's 2,000-mile southern boundary but dropping plans for any further expansion, officials said.

TOYOTA PROBLEMS

JAIME GARCIA, LOS ANGELES, CALIFORNIA

PKG 2:05

The problems for Toyota continue to accelerate. Overnight Toyota has now acknowledged design problems with the brakes in its prized Prius, adding to the catalog of woes for the Japanese automaker as it reels from massive gas-pedal recalls in the U.S. Meanwhile Transportation Secretary Ray LaHood has announced a new probe of the Toyota electronics system that links the gas pedal, through a tiny computer, to the throttle. Some experts believe there is a software glitch or that the computer system is susceptible to electromagnetic interference. The company denies the problem. But a former top Toyota lawyer, Dimitri Biller, says the company cannot be believed, that officials in Tokyo often give orders to hide evidence of defects that could be damaging to the company.

BUSES SMUGGLING IMMIGRANTS

LUCIA NAVARRO. HOUSTON, TEXAS

PKG 2:28

Federal agents have targeted more than a dozen local bus companies they say shuttled scores of illegal immigrants to destinations across the U.S., vowing to continue cracking down on smuggling organizations' transportation networks. ICE Assistant Secretary John Morton was in Houston on Wednesday to announce results of a three-month operation focused on Houston-area smuggling by transportation companies, saying federal agents charged 22 suspects with conspiracy to transport illegal immigrants.

TOYOTA CRISIS LATEST

LUIS MEGID. SAN FRANCISCO, CALIFORNIA

PKG 1:49

Toyota's president apologized Friday for the massive global recalls over sticking gas pedals as the automaker scrambles to repair a damaged reputation and sliding sales. But Akio Toyoda, appointed to the top job at Toyota Motor Corp. last June, said the company is still deciding what steps to take to fix brake problems in the popular Prius gas-electric hybrid. Speaking at a hastily announced news conference that lasted an hour, a stern-looking Toyoda promised to beef up quality control.

IMMIGRATION LAW, PROTECT CHILDRENBLANCA ROSA VILCHEZ. NEW YORK*PKG 1:54

Immigrant groups from New York and New Jersey went to the capital yesterday to pressure Congress to pass a law that would protect children with U.S. citizenship who are affected by the deportation of their parents. The bill, known as the Child Citizen Protection Act (CCPA), was introduced this year by Congressman José E. Serrano (D-NY) in an effort to give immigration judges the necessary discretion to consider deportation cases that involve children born in the United States.

TOYOTA LATESTVO :24

Toyota says it will soon announce plans to deal with braking problems in its prized Prius hybrid amid reports it has decided to issue a recall for the latest model in Japan. Toyota has already had to recall millions of other cars in the U.S., Europe and China over a faulty gas pedal system. Toyota to announce Prius action plan soon

OBAMA HEALTHCAREVO :20

President Barack Obama says he has invited Republican and Democratic leaders to discuss health care legislation later this month. In an interview Sunday with CBS' Katie Couric, Obama said he wants Republicans "to put their ideas on the table." Obama and Congress' Democratic leaders are seeking a way to overhaul the nation's health care system even though Senate Republicans are again able to block legislation with filibusters. Polls show that many Americans feel Obama and his congressional allies have not sought enough GOP input, although Democrats say Republicans have shown virtually no interest in seeking a realistic agreement.

EXPERTS HIGHLIGHT HOW LATINO VOTERS WILL INFLUENCE 2010 ELECTIONS
LUIS MEGID, SAN FRANCISCO, CALIFORNIA

PKG: 1:55

The Latino vote has grown exponentially since 2000, changing the political landscape in more than a dozen states across the country, and is poised to be pivotal yet again in the 2010 cycle. According to experts on the politics of the Latino vote, who gathered on a telephonic press conference today, candidates and parties need to do more than say a few words in Spanish-they need to understand and embrace the policies that motivate and influence Latino voters. How both parties handle such issues as comprehensive immigration reform will have a real impact on Latino political behavior, including turnout and party preference, in the congressional mid-terms and beyond.

TOYOTA RECALL-PRIUS
LUIS MEGID

PKG: 2:13

Toyota Motor Corp has issued safety recalls for more than 8.5 million vehicles worldwide, raising questions about quality standards and its credibility. Beyond that recall, U.S. safety regulators have launched a probe to see whether complaints of unintended acceleration could stem from issues with an electronic throttle control system Toyota started to use on vehicles in 1998. The first of two U.S. congressional hearings into the safety issues involving Toyota vehicles is scheduled for Feb. 24.

LAWYERS-NEW IMMIGRATION COURTS
BLANCA ROSA VILCHEZ

PKG: 2:15

Responding to pleas from immigration judges and lawyers who say the nation's immigration courts are faltering under a crushing caseload, the American Bar Association called Monday for Congress to scrap the current system and create a new, independent court for immigration cases. In a vote at its semiannual meeting in Orlando, Fla., the lawyers' organization endorsed a recommendation for a separate immigration court system that would be similar to federal courts that decide tax cases. Behind the seemingly arcane proposal was a portrait of the nation's immigration courts besieged with new cases arising from an intensified federal crackdown on illegal immigration, and challenged by critics who doubt the courts' impartiality.

ILLINOIS IMMIGRATION REPORT
LUIS MEGID, SAN FRANCISCO, CALIFORNIA

PKG 1:56

The number of unauthorized immigrants in the United States decreased by 800,000 from 2008 to 2009, the Department of Homeland Security says in a report released Wednesday. There were 11.6 million unauthorized immigrants in the United States in January 2008 and 10.8 million one year later, DHS said. The decrease in the number of immigrants coincided with the U.S. economic downturn.

HONDA RECALL

VO :11

Honda Motor Co. said Wednesday in Asia that it's further expanding a massive recall of 2001 and 2002 models to include more than 900,000 vehicles worldwide, due to lingering concerns about malfunctioning airbags. Over a year ago, Honda announced a plan to recall less than 4,000 Accord and Civic models from model year 2001 in the U.S. to replace the driver's side airbag inflator. At the time, the company cited four instances where airbag deployments had ruptured airbag inflators.

TOYOTA RECALL

VO: 20

Toyota Motor Sales (TMS), U.S.A., Inc, today announced it will conduct a voluntary safety recall to inspect the front drive shaft on a small production run of certain 2010 model year Tacoma 4WD trucks. The front shaft in approximately 8,000 vehicles may include a component that contains cracks that developed during the manufacturing process. As those vehicles are used, the cracks may eventually lead to the separation of the drive shaft at the joint portion. This condition only involves two specific front drive shaft production lot numbers installed in certain 2010 model year Tacoma 4WD vehicles. No other Toyota or Lexus vehicles are involved.

TOYOTA DEATHS AND LAWSUITS

JAIME GARCIA, LOS ANGELES CALIFORNIA

PKG: 2:06

The government has received new complaints that bring to 34 the total number of alleged deaths in Toyota vehicles due to sudden acceleration since 2000, according to government data posted Monday. The government has received complaints during the past three weeks alleging 13 deaths. The deaths allegedly tied to this problem happened in nine crashes between 2005 and 2010. From 2000 to 2009, complaints alleging 21 deaths in Toyota vehicles had been filed with the government. Toyota Motor Corp. has recalled 8.5 million vehicles globally during the past four months because of problems with gas pedals, floor mats and brakes, threatening the safety and quality reputation of the world's No. 1 automaker. The government typically receives a surge in complaints following a recall. None has yet been verified.

IMMIGRATION REFORM CARAVAN
BLANCA ROSA VILCHEZ, NUEVA YORK*PKG: 2:22

On Monday, February 15th, a dozen adventurous New Yorkers will begin a five-day road trip across New York State to call for immediate action on immigration reform. The caravan, dubbed the "Road Trip for Our Future," will stop in ten cities and towns throughout the state. Rallies along the route will step up the pressure on key members of Congress to finally fix America's dysfunctional immigration system. onday's launch event begins with a press conference featuring testimonials from immigrant New Yorkers about the urgent need for reform. Afterwards, dozens of supporters will head down to the street to send off the caravan. Equipped with laptops and cameras, the caravan team will share photos and videos of their trip. The caravan route includes New York City, Carmel, Saratoga Springs, Syracuse, Sodus, Pittsford, Greece, Batavia, Buffalo, Ithaca, and Brooklyn.
